THE R. M. Haddon Co.

Owing to the change that will be made in this firm on January 1st, 1908,

we will have to ask every one that owe us to make arrangements to meet their account between now and then if you can. We would like to have your account now, but if not now, we ask you not to put us off when we call on you January 1st. So please bear it in mind that we will expect you to meet your account with us on or before that date.

THE R. M. HADDON CO.

LOWNESVILLE.

Lownesville, Dec. 2, 1907. Mrs. B. C. Kay has been in Atlanta for some days with the family of her son-in-law, Mr. W. C. Tennent. Mrs. W. M. Spear went to Anderson to-day was a week ago, on a shopping trip. Rev. O. M. Abney, the Methodist preacher in charge of the work here, left on Tuesday for Gaffney to, and did attend the meeting of the South Carolina Conference. For a short while before this annual gathering of the South Carolina Methodist preachers, there is brought about in them no little anxiety, unrest, because of the uncertainty as to where their field of labor will be for another year, but before this reaches the eye of the reader their troubled feelings along this line will have vanished, and some of them will be satisfied and some will not. Such is life. We cannot all be pleased at the same time.

The early hours of Wednesday night were taken up by the school management in carrying out a nicely arranged program of an entertainment consisting of songs, recitations, dialogues, music, etc., and this brought forth the closest, pleasurable attention of the large number of spectators present. It took place in the school building which was well filled. About $25.00 were taken in, which will go to the providing of window shades, maps, etc., for the school building.

The first half of Thanksgiving day was a little cloudy—last half was rainy, but little more than necessary business was attended to, and freedom of individual action was the order of the day, and as usual, gun reports on this day, far and near were frequently heard, all of which, so far as can be learned, were a failure as to game, but a success as to noise, and perhaps fun, of the gunners. A few, very perhaps because of the scarcity and high price (15c) per pound of this essential to an up-to-date Thanksgiving dinner. The day passed very quietly in this section, without special accident or incident—the large force of gunners, failing to kill or wound anybody. Mr. Bolling, Allen and family went to Heardmont Thursday and spent a day or two. Mr. J. B. Kay, of Erskine College, came over Wednesday for Thanksgiving, and a few other days with his household.

Messrs. W. C. Ariall and Ernest Latimer went to Anderson Thursday. An unusual and peculiar "turn out" passed through this place on above named day. It was up-to-date as to vehicle, (an auto), but a way behind as to motive power, (a rather ancient looking mule). The chauffeur, the only occupant, lives near Middleton, Ga., came over in his machine when he reached some place over here. It broke down, and he got the old slow mule to take himself and horse-car back home. It is said by some who got near enough to the concern to see that the descendant of Balaam had something to pull in, but nothing to hold back with, and that the driver had to get somebody to help him down the longest and steepest hill; he could get up all right by unloading. Autos may and sometimes do fail, but the old mule never. The driver could pass along the highway safely, without fear, of a shooting iron being used upon him, as is sometimes done, for exceeding the speed limit, thereby frightening a horse or mule.

Mrs. J. P. Young, of Anderson, came down Friday and is still with relatives in this place. Harper, of Greenwood, who was here went to Augusta yesterday evening, the second named to enter the hospital for treatment. Mrs. P. B. Allen, of Starr, came down yesterday, and will stay a part of the time that Mrs. Harper is absent.
